Rep. Holtzclaw Honored for Public Safety Work

BOISE, Idaho – Idaho House Republican Caucus member Representative James Holtzclaw was honored for his work to make Idaho an even safer place to live. Rep. Holtzclaw received the “Advocate of Justice” Award from the Idaho Prosecuting Attorneys Association Thursday (August 15, 2019) at a luncheon with Governor Brad Little. The Award recognizes Rep. Holtzclaw’s outstanding service to the public safety of Idaho’s citizens during this year’s legislative session.

“This recognition means a lot to me professionally and personally,” said Rep. Holtzclaw. “I consider the safety of Idaho families to be one of my most vital responsibilities as a Representative and father.”

The Idaho Prosecuting Attorneys Association is a nonprofit corporation comprised of the elected County Prosecutors, over 200 Deputy Prosecutors, and a number of associate members. The Association educates through seminars, publications and technical support.

Senator Todd Lakey was also honored at the event.
