House Republican Leaders Bring Town Hall Series to Canyon County

BOISE, Idaho – House Republican Leadership and Canyon County members of the House GOP Caucus will hold a town hall at Nampa City Hall on November 19. This will be the fifth town hall in a series throughout the Gem State.

“This town hall series has been an invaluable opportunity to connect face-to-face with people from across Idaho,” said Speaker of the House Scott Bedke, who will attend the Canyon County Town Hall. “The more we hear about the issues real Idahoans face every day, the more we can help.”

The Caucus will hold the town hall from 7-9pm on Tuesday, November 19 at Nampa City Hall (411 3rd St S). The Representatives will answer written questions, and then be available to talk to people one-on-one. They encourage their constituents and the media to attend. They also encourage early questions to be sent to info@idahohouserеспублиcancaucus.com.

“Canyon County is a growing community that’s seeing a lot of change right now,” said Caucus Chair Rep. Megan Blanksma, who will also be attending. “Events like this help us ensure that change is positive.”
