Asst. Majority Leader Rep. Jason Monks Statement on House Bill 135a

“Idahoans have made it clear to us that they wanted a rebalancing of governmental powers. We made that one of our priorities for this Legislative Session, and this bill is one of the ways we’re keeping that promise,” said Assistant Majority Leader Rep. Jason Monks, who sponsored H135a. “This crucial legislation protects the separation and balance of powers between the executive and legislative branches of this state’s government. It also guards the Constitutional rights that we hold dear, puts sensible limits on disaster declarations, and ensures that no working Idahoan is ever deemed as anything less than ‘essential,’ because they are not. I appreciate the incredible support today from my colleagues in the House of Representatives and hope that my friends across the rotunda also see the wisdom in supporting this legislation.”
